Letter from the Executive Director

I have been interviewed several times recently about the proposed defunding of the National Endowment for the Arts on the Federal level and the effect it will have on us. You can find a video on this topic featuring two of our artist members Chris Ann Ambery and Kevin McEvoy, Director of The Atelier at Flowerfield, on our website www.huntingtonarts.org. As difficult as it is to continue this fight over the years, my experience has been that somehow the arts survive and artists continue to create. Creative people are good at solving problems, and artists continue to make art in spite of defunding and criticism. It is encouraging to live and work in an area that supports, values and encourages the arts. I applaud our elected officials...town, county and state...who support the arts. I urge anyone passionate about the arts to let their elected officials know how much the arts mean to Huntington and the Long Island community, and thank them for their continued support and funding.

Along with public support, we rely on individuals to help us to continue our programming. There are so many special ways that the membership and community support us. Whether it be as a volunteer or a charitable donation in memory of a loved one. Each and every one of these gestures is greatly appreciated and highly valued. We thank all of our donors to our year end campaign and On the Block art auction. This year we took a slightly different approach to our auction and presented it as a curated arts and culturally based exhibit. The response was enthusiastic and resulted in a successful outcome.

Singer Songwriter Night

In mid December the Huntington Arts Council held the first of its new Singer Songwriter Nights, featuring Phillip LoFaso. The idea behind having an event like this was to open our gallery space to the community in a way we hadn't done before. To provide an inclusive environment that encouraged people of all ages to come and perform and create freely. It was a great night with a terrific variety of performers turning out. We are excited to not only continue with our scheduled January 25 and February 15 dates but will be extending the series into May.

The schedule of dates for 2018 so far is as follows: January 25, February 15, March 29, April 26, May 24.

The Huntington Arts Council is located at 213 Main Street, Huntington, NY 11743.

No pre-registration required.
$10 donation to perform,
$5 suggested for all others

Town Supervisor Chad A. Lupinacci, HAC ED Marc Courtade, HAC Board President Sam Miller

Kevin McEvoy Director, The Atelier at Flowerfield

We continue to schedule fundraising activities to help us manage to continue our mission of servicing arts and arts organizations. Funding the arts is hard work, but we continue to do it to ensure that the arts will prosper and be available for all to enjoy.

Recently Huntington Arts Council hosted a meeting with many of Long Island's arts councils and our program officer from NYSCA. It was encouraging to get together and collaborate to continue our good works to build the arts on LI. All of our programming at HAC and our colleague organizations has a valuable public benefit. Our programs continue to enrich lives. Our JOURNEY program nurtures the arts in our six partner school districts. Read first hand from several educators about the positive impact this program has on the students of Long Island on page 8. In March, the High Arts Showcase, a student art show which is one of the benefits of the JOURNEY Program, provides the chance to see the works of the next generation of artists. We take our responsibility to support these student artists seriously and have chosen the work of three high school students and featured it on the cover of this issue of the Arts Cultural News. The NYSCA Decentralization program has wrapped up its panel deliberations, and successful applicants will receive funding to help them continue to add to the arts landscape of Long Island. The annual Huntington Summer Arts Festival is well into the planning stage, and we look forward to presenting another quality season of performances. This newsletter showcases a myriad of performances and exhibitions across all genres. On May 20th we will be participating once again in the Huntington Village Art Walk. Please stop by anytime between 12-4pm. Please treat yourself to as many arts experiences as you can.

Letter From The Supervisor

Supervisor Chad A. Lupinacci

Dear Friends:
Huntington's distinction as the birthplace of Walt Whitman – frequently acknowledged as one of our country's greatest poets – is just one aspect of our community's distinguished literary heritage. This heritage spans from being the home of Jupiter Hammon, who in 1761 became the nation's first published African-American poet, to fostering contemporary poets such as Northport resident George Wallace, named in 2003 as the first Poet Laureate of Suffolk County.

As April is National Poetry Month it is fitting that we celebrate this distinguished heritage by recognizing some of Huntington's newest poets. From 7-9 p.m. on April 23rd Walt Whitman's Birthplace will host in cooperation with the Town of Huntington a special event in honor of teen poets from our community. This award ceremony and poetry reading will recognize those teens whose poems have been selected this year for public display in the Town's "Poetry for the HART" Public Art Initiative, a program developed in cooperation with Teenspeak and other youth and arts agencies within the community. These teen poets will have the opportunity to share their winning poems at a reading led by an adult poet mentor.

Afterward, these winning poems printed on colorful placards will join those of previous years in gracing the interior of buses in the Town's HART system. While these youthful words of humor, reflection, and sometimes profound insight are enjoyed by more than 260,000 riders annually, they can also be found online on the Town's website at www.HuntingtonNY.gov/HARTpoetry.

Please join us for this special event in celebration of our community's literary heritage, which remains a living art form created by our friends and neighbors that still enriches our lives today.

Sincerely yours,
Chad A. Lupinacci

2018 Huntington Summer Arts Festival

Performing Arts Director John Chicherio is working hard on creating another exciting roster of artists for the Huntington Summer Arts Festival. 2018 will mark the Festival's 53rd edition. This year's Festival opens Tuesday, June 26, 2018 with a fun and engaging Family Show. Opening week is highlighted on June 30th with a performance by The Lords of 52nd Street featuring Richie Cannata (Billy Joel's core backing band from late-70's through early-80's). This is guaranteed to be a high energy entertaining show. The festival will continue six nights per week into mid-August.

One big change in the works is an earlier curtain time for all performances. "We've had many requests to start concerts a half-hour earlier. We will likely begin Tuesday Family shows at 7:00 PM and all other concerts at 8:00 PM.," explained Mr. Chicherio. "We believe it is a good shift and will result in larger attendance and a more enjoyable experience for our loyal base."

"Planning the Festival is like weaving a new tapestry of music, dance and entertainment each year," says Mr. Chicherio. "We can't disclose the remaining artists until we have signed contracts in place. At this early date, we don't know exactly what to expect, but you can count on an eclectic mix of talented headliners & emerging artists from across the U.S. and around the world!" In addition, local and regional ensembles that have long formed the backbone of the Festival are featured, including the Huntington Community Band, the Northport Community Band, Huntington Men's Chorus, the L.I. Dance Consortium, Plaza Theatrical Productions, BroadHollow Theatre, and others. "We are also in discussion with David Stewart Wiley about celebrating Leonard Bernstein's centennial with the Chamber Orchestra of Long Island." said Mr. Chicherio. "We feel it is vitally important to continue presenting superb classical concerts, performed by veterans of the L.I. Phil, at our beautiful venue in Heckscher Park." Also look for the Huntington Jazz Week with a new edition of Coltrane Day in collaboration with the Friends of the Coltrane Home. The Huntington Folk Festival will celebrate its 13th year with great folk and Americana artists presented in collaboration with the Folk Music Society of Huntington. World Music will be well represented as will L.I. Spotlight concerts and other surprises. All HSAF concerts are free admission and are presented at the Chapin Rainbow Stage in Heckscher Park at Prime Ave. & Main Street. The Northport Community Band performs five consecutive concerts on Thursday evenings at the Robert F. Krueger Band Shell in Northport Harbor. Each Tuesday features a Family show perfect for all ages. Come early on Tuesdays and join us for a fun, easy FREE craft for the children. The craft table opens at 6 before each Family show and features a new craft each week.

More information on the complete Festival lineup will be available in the coming months at www.huntingtonarts.org

The HSAF is produced by the Town of Huntington and presented by the Huntington Arts Council. The Board of Directors and the Staff at HAC express their sincere appreciation to the Town Council for their support and for making this program possible. The Festival is also supported by grants from the County of Suffolk, and is made possible by the New York State Council of the Arts with support of Governor Andrew M. Cuomo and the New York State Legislature, and by corporate and public contributions.

Dance Scholarships

In 2018, the Huntington Arts Council will again be proud to offer 2 dance scholarships for graduating high school seniors.

Alana Papa 2017 Sandi Bloomberg Scholarship winner

The Sandi Bloomberg Scholarship for Dance will be offered again this year for male or female dancers in Nassau and Suffolk Counties. The scholarship is for graduating seniors who are considering furthering their education in dance – but not necessarily in an accredited program. This scholarship is offered by Sandi Bloomberg and one award of $1,000 will be given in 2018.

Brooke Shore 2017 Rea Jacobs Scholarship Winner

The Rea Jacobs Scholarship for Dance is a competitive scholarship for Nassau and Suffolk High School Graduating Seniors who are pursuing a four year college degree with a major or minor in Dance. A $1000 award will be given in 2018 to a male or female student. The scholarship is funded by the Long Island Dance Consortium and the Jacobs Family.

The winner of both scholarships will be invited to perform with the Long Island Dance Consortium at the Summer Arts Festival in Heckscher Park in 2018.

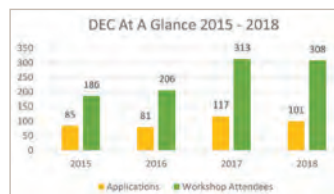

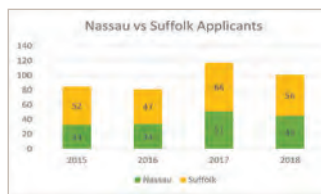

Scholarship applications are due by Friday May 4, 2018. Winners will be notified by May 31, 2018 and invited to the Huntington Arts Council Annual Meeting in June where they will be presented with their award.

Scholarship applications can be found at www.huntingtonarts.org/programs/arts-in-education/scholarship-programs/. For questions, email artsined@huntingtonarts.org or call 631-271-8423, ext. 14.

Long Island Grants for the Arts

The Huntington Arts Council is proud to say that the 2018 Decentralization Re-Grant Program has had another successful year. The Arts Council is delighted to see a parallel number of applications from last year to this year. There was an outstanding total of 308 interested applicants attending the mandatory grant workshops, and 101 applications submitted from Nassau and Suffolk County non-profit organizations, individual and teaching artists.

This Fall Huntington Arts Council kept up with its reach and ability to serve the arts community by holding nine total workshops across Long Island.

As the funds are being decided upon by our panelists, the Council is excited by this year's applicant's project proposals. Notifications to the recipients will be made by March and we will celebrate with an Awards Ceremony at a later date.

This year HAC will be pushing up the 2019 Decentralization Grant Cycle to have the 2019 projects coincide with the calendar year. The workshops will be starting at the end of May 2018 and run through June. Applications for those who attend these workshops will be due September 14th at 4 PM.

All interested 2019 Grants applicants must attend a mandatory HAC free informational workshop in order to be considered for a grant. There are seven confirmed workshop dates and two TBD. Information about the remaining workshop dates will be available on our website www.huntingtonarts.org Please register online at <https://huntingtonartscouncil.submittable.com/submit/104267/2019-grants-for-the-arts-workshop-registration>.

- Thursday, May 31, 6 PM at the Huntington Arts Council
- Tuesday, June 5, 6 PM at the Smithtown Library
- Thursday, June 7, 2 PM at the East Meadow Library
- Monday, June 18, 6 PM at the East End Arts Council
- Tuesday, June 19, 6 PM at the Freeport Memorial Library
- Thursday, June 21, 6 PM at the African American Museum of Nassau County
- Thursday, June 28, 6 PM at the Huntington Public Library

Grant opportunities are available annually for both arts and cultural organizations and individual artists residing in Nassau and Suffolk Counties. Grants range from $500-$5,000 dollars. The funds are made possible by the New York State Council on the Arts (NYSCA) Decentralization Program. To find out more information about this program, refer to our website, www.huntingtonarts.org under the Grants for the Arts section.

The Decentralization Regrant Program is made possible by the New York State Council on the Arts with the support of Governor Andrew M. Cuomo and the New York State Legislature.

Arts in Education - JOURNEY

Getting to know the JOURNEY Program Through the Teachers that Use it!

For over 30 years the Huntington Arts Council has been working with local school districts to facilitate the multicultural, arts-in-education program, JOURNEY. The goal of the JOURNEY program is to promote and support the appreciation of cultural diversity and tradition through art. There are three major components; CTLE Cultural Arts Workshops for teacher professional development, Discovery Chests, and Visiting Teaching Artists to schools.

The participating school districts for 2017-18 are Commack, Harborfields, Huntington, Northport/East Northport, Plainview/Old Bethpage and South Huntington.

As Arts-in-Education Coordinator I, Gina Van Bell, am getting to know the educators of the JOURNEY schools. I had conversations with teachers from the JOURNEY schools all of whom make a huge commitment to support the arts and culture in their schools. The teachers I spoke with are as follows:

Jeanie Ritter, Art Teacher at Harborfields High School

Brian O'Neil, Art Teacher at Harborfields High School and Thomas J. Lahey Elementary School

Dena Mortell, Art Teacher at J.T. Finley Middle School in Huntington

Esmeralda Tello, Global Studies Teacher at Huntington High School.

Meeting the Teachers of the JOURNEY Program

How long have you been using the JOURNEY program and how did you hear about it?

As a partner school we have been involved in the JOURNEY program in one way or another for several years.-Jeanie Ritter and Brian O'Neil

I have been attending the JOURNEY program events for about 5 years. My first event was for Asian brush painting and it was held in the Huntington HS cafeteria. I remember I didn't know a single person that was there that night, but by the time the class was over I had made friends with art teachers from neighboring school districts. Now I look forward to seeing these people each time we attend a new class.-Dena Mortell

I have been using the JOURNEY Program for almost 10 years. I heard about the JOURNEY Program and Discovery Chests from an advertisement that I encountered through the Huntington Arts Council website. The first Discovery Chest I used to enrich learning in my classroom was the Native American Chest in my American History Grade 7 class. Since then I have used multiple cultural chests to teach about China, Africa and Ancient Greece in my World History classes at the high school.-Esmeralda Tello

What parts of the JOURNEY program are the most useful for you? Why?

We participated in the Teacher Workshops and found these very informative; particularly the Asian Brush Painting and Clay Workshop. Having the opportunity to experience the presentations by both of the professional artists and then participate in a hands-on activity really allowed us to develop a better understanding of their respective areas of expertise. We were then able to share these new experiences with our students. We have also been in contact with the artists in residence to arrange for an in-house presentation. This would not have been possible without the Arts in Education Program.-Jeanie Ritter and Brian O'Neil.

The Discovery Chests have been an amazing enrichment resource in my teaching of American and World History. The artifacts and accompanying informational sources have enabled me to make learning hands-on and have brought the cultures we study in class come alive.-Esmeralda Tello

Talking about the CTLE CULTURAL ARTS WORKSHOPS:

The CTLE Cultural Arts Workshops offer 15 hours of staff development each year and are taught by teaching artists and experts from various nations.

How do the CTLE Cultural Arts Workshops benefit teachers and students?

When teachers participate in hands on workshops it helps them remember what it feels like to be the student. This allows the teacher to better understand the student experience and present more relevant content in their lessons.-Jeanie Ritter and Brian O'Neil

CTLE Cultural Arts Workshop on November 15th, Day in Clay - A Multicultural Ceramic Arts Program. This workshop was held at partner JOURNEY school - Huntington High School.

This fall I attended the "Traditions of Hawaii" workshop. Each dance routine we learned that night told a story about Hawaii's history, and it was interesting how they use this artistic form to pass stories down to each generation. This is the workshop that inspired me to introduce Tiki Totems to my studio in art class. We discussed how the tiki totem can also tell a story through the images that are carved into it. We are creating our tiki's in clay and each student has written a journal entry describing and detailing the story behind their sculpture. I can't wait to exhibit these projects at our annual art show in May at the Huntington HS.-Dena Mortell

Talking about the DISCOVERY CHESTS:

The Discovery Chests are culturally themed bins filled with 20-30 cultural artifacts for hands on student learning and exploration. The chests include; Ancient Egypt, Africa, China, Greece, India, Latin America, Native America and a Mixed Culture chest. These chests are provided by the Huntington Arts Council and can be delivered to each participating school.

Educator, Esmeralda Tello, has been using the chests for almost a decade and has been a strong supporter of their use and benefits.

In what ways do the Discovery Chests enhance lessons in your classroom?

The Discovery Chests have allowed my students to think like archaeologists and critically examine the uses and functions of artifacts. Students have become actively involved in their own learning by examining artifacts in person and contextualizing and discussing each artifact with their peers.-Esmeralda Tello

How do the students respond to these experiences? Can you describe a time you included the Discovery Chests in your lessons?

Students have responded positively to the Discovery Chests. They are intrigued and excited when we start a new cultural unit and they pose questions surrounding an artifact that leads to class discussion. I have used the Africa Discovery Chest artifacts in group research projects, the Chinese chest in jigsaw groups where students taught their peers and students used the Greek artifacts in group presentations. Recently I used the Ancient Greece Discovery Chest in a play on Athens and Sparta, where the vases, dolls and column replicas became our backdrop, the costumes were worn by students and the musical cd's played in the background to set the mood of the scene.-Esmeralda Tello

How does this hands-on, exploratory learning benefit your students?

The Discovery Chests have allowed students to discuss topics of culture in an open matter. They have posed questions surrounding the artifact, done online research and brought their findings to the class in group presentations. Students have become more actively engaged in their analysis and inquiry.-Esmeralda Tello

More included with JOURNEY

In addition to the three major components of JOURNEY, the program also includes an annual student art exhibition, titled High Arts Showcase, held in the Huntington Art Council's Main Street Gallery. The show is open to 11th and 12th grade art students in participating districts and is exhibited in the spring.

How else do you bring art and culture into your classroom?

We bring art and culture into our classroom by presenting information on different periods of art history, and highlighting various cultures, as well as our own personal experiences.

- Jeanie Ritter and Brian O'Neil

In the past I brought art and culture into my classroom by arranging field trips to museums both in Huntington Village and New York City, but these are once a year events if the funding is available. With the Discovery Chests, artifacts are readily available throughout the school year and the exhibits come to us facilitating and enriching my lessons.-Esmeralda Tello

The students enjoy the annual Tulip Festival art contest that is held in Heckscher Park each spring. The students are really inspired by the local connection to the Huntington community and showcased their talent through beautiful illustrations. In an era of digital dominance, the students really like this contest because they grew up playing in this park, as well as visiting the Heckscher Museum, and became part of the art community that showcases how beautiful Huntington is in the Spring.-Dena Mortell.

Is there anything you would like to add about JOURNEY?

Yes I think the JOURNEY partnership is very helpful between the Huntington Arts Council and the schools because there is a wealth of material that has already been gathered, and documented and is easily available for teachers who are willing to use it. I don't see how any educator can bring the art of teaching alive without authentic discussion starters like the exhibits that each Discovery Chest provides. - Esmeralda Tello

In conclusion:

Thank you to all the educators who offered their time and shared their experiences with the JOURNEY program. We look forward to continuing our partnership with all the districts and working toward expanding our program to more schools across Long Island.

"Manipulated Image"

Juried Photography Show

Nicolas Bruno, Juror

February 9-March 3, 2018

Opening Reception February 9, 6-8pm

"Image manipulation provides limitless possibilities to communicate an idea or concept. Within the body of submitted work, experimentation through digital composites, traditional darkroom trickery, and mysterious mixed media processes were all demonstrated. By intimately analyzing the stories and processes expressed through each submission, a careful assemblage of works were woven together to showcase a breadth of unique compositions. It was a stimulating experience to explore the creative visions of the artists that are truly defining the art scene of Long Island." Nicolas Bruno, Juror. Congratulations to the participating artists; Alex Atkinson, Ennid Berger, Emma Boudin, Keaton Boyd, Jay Brenner, Katie Burnett, Jim Finlayson, Maria Giuliani, Phyllis Goodfriend, William Grabowski, Germaine Hodges, Geraldine Hoffman, Jovanna Hopkins, Jacqueline Jergensen, Adis Kacamakovic, Jacques LeBlanc, Judy Lipman Shechter, David Shechter, Virginia Mallon, John Micheals, Margaret Minardi, Meghan Monahan, Justin Ray-Keeffe, Alissa Rosenberg.

"Summit: Diego Garcia"

Invitational Show

April 6 - April 28, 2018

Opening Reception April 6, 6-8pm

Closing Reception April 27, 7-9pm

Special Performance by Dudley Music

Diego Garcia, a Long Island born and raised painter, has had a passion for art since an early age. His journey of finding himself artistically began through graffiti and taking honors art classes at Brentwood High School. He started to take his craft seriously around the age of 17 by doing commission work and submitting to group exhibitions. The now 25 year old finds himself showing his work across Long Island and in numerous venues in New York City.

In The Field by Diego Garcia

Summit is very special to me. Since my first solo show in 2015, I have embarked on a journey of self evaluation and growth. My mission to inspire youth and depict emotions comes with strong convictions and certainty. I paint children to help advocate to the viewer a message bigger than myself. Children need to be nurtured and loved, they are the future. As the years have gone by I began to notice that as I advocated this message, the imagery and idea of personifying emotions with these innocent subjects was also me subliminally working on myself. I have painted extroverted emotions and experiences of joy, wonder and exuberance. I have painted introverted emotions and experiences of loneliness, timidity and fear. My insecurity, my confidence, my message all in one. We all can relate to these feelings, both child and adult.

Closing Reception featuring Dudley Music; Dudley Music, John Francke, John Luther and Gary Salgado.

Dudley and I have been coordinating creative events together since we were 18 years old. In our own creative fields we have advocated for the future generations of artists and musicians and have made it our mission to push the art community and culture forward on Long Island. It is an honor to have my lifelong friend express himself alongside my work.

"12x12"

Juried Show,

Beth Giacommo, Juror

May 4 - May 26, 2018

Opening Reception May 4, 6-8pm

The Huntington Arts Council invites artists to participate in our 12 x 12 exhibition, art work inspired by the LP Record Jacket. The idea of the 12 inch LP has been a concurrent image in popular culture since the first one was pressed in 1903. The images on the cover grew from signage and marketing to works of art that represented the music and the culture in which both are being created.

Juror, Beth Giacommo is an artist, curator and educator. She holds a BFA from the School of Visual Arts and a MFA in New Forms from Pratt Institute. Beth has exhibited her work extensively nationally and internationally; New York, Romania, Russia, Spain, Italy and Denmark. Beth's professional experiences range from arts education to museum management. She currently serves as the Gallery Director for Farmingdale State College and is the Executive Director of the Patchogue Arts Council. Juried Show

Keith Tobolski, Juror

June 29 - July 21, 2018

Opening Reception June 29, 6-8pm

Artwork by Keith Tobolski

The Huntington Arts Council invites artists to participate Stars, Stripes and Pinups; Art Inspired by Sailor Jerry. Art work should draw from the work and words of the iconic American tattoo artist.

"Is it the nostalgia or the risqué images, perhaps the patriotism and the permanency? It is the allure of the art inspired by Sailor Jerry that has peaked my interest." - Juror, Keith Tobolski, owner and operator of Anchor East Tattoo Parlor in Huntington. His formal art training includes studies at Marwen as well as Palette & Chisel in Chicago, IL. Recent exhibitions include Ink Masters and RIPE Art Gallery. Tobolski is currently represented by Paper Gun Art Gallery out of River North, Chicago. For full prospectus go to our website www.huntingtonarts.org Entry deadline is May 21.

PRESERVE THE WORLD WE SHARE

A better Earth starts when people – regardless of race, religion, or culture – harmoniously live and work together toward the future. This is the central tenet to Kyosei, the philosophy behind our long tradition of working with communities to protect and preserve the world we share. Through environmental initiatives like the Yellowstone Park Foundation, sustainability and prosperity can be realized for future generations.
