From the Executive Director

Hello Community,

As summer has wound down I want to thank everyone who attended and supported the Huntington Summer Arts Festival. The rain (for the most part) held out and the music played on. One of my family's favorite performances was Plaza Theatrical's "How I Became a Pirate", the great cast seen here with my daughter.

Jared Alequin and Nathaniel Eck with Kieran Johnson

We were happy to present two dance scholarship winners with their awards prior to their performances during "A Celebration of Dance 2" by the L.I. Dance Consortium. Jared Alequin was the recipient of the Rea Jacobs Scholarship and Nathaniel Eck the Sandi Bloomberg Scholarship. These dance scholarships were presented as part of our Arts in Education Program.

As the calendar turns to fall, HAC starts to ramp up our other various programs and we couldn't be more excited for some of the changes we get to present to you.

This fall begins the new cycle of the L.I. Grants for the Arts through the Statewide Community Regrant (SCR) program we administer through New York State Council on the Arts (NYSCA). This year though a special initiative of the Office of the Governor and the NYS Legislature, we received increased funding through the Upstate and Long Island Recovery Initiative. This will mean more funding for more impact on both Nassau and Suffolk Counties.

Kieran's daughter with the cast of "How I Became a Pirate".

This initiative will also be funding a free professional development series lead by Gallery and Operations Director, Sarah McCann. Our first session will be October 26th, Presenting Yourself (Identity) with the Rockstar Advocate Suzanne Pauinski.

The school year has started and so has our Arts in Education, JOURNEY program. Visiting artist, discovery chests and CTLE training are parts of the cultural learning provided by this critical program. For information see page 6.

It is a pleasure to continue to be the Director of HAC, and we stay committed to you as your community based, local arts agency. So please come down to the Main Street Gallery at 213 Main Street for a conversation, sign up for our social media to see what's coming up next, and where will be throughout the island.

All the best,
Kieran Johnson

Supervisor Town of Huntington

Dear Friends,

As the weather begins to change, and the air becomes chillier, the Town of Huntington begins to warm up! First up is the Huntington Village Art Walk, on October 2nd from 12 noon to 5pm. This is Long Island's best and largest Art Walk, with nine locations in downtown

Huntington. Find the Arts Walk's tent under the marquee at the Paramount for information and directions to each location. And speaking of the Paramount, take in a show at Long Island's premier concert venue. Go to the Paramount website for more information on this coming Fall and Winter's scheduled bands, comics and solo artists.

One of the highlights of the Fall season for everyone is the annual Long Island Fall Festival. Over the course of 4 days, from October 7th to October 10th, the Town welcomes thousands of visitors to our premier outdoor space, Heckscher Park, to take in the rides, cultural offerings and music at this family-friendly Fall Festival. There are hundreds of vendors and four days of live bands, food and drinks. Visit the Huntington Chamber of Commerce website for all of the details.

As winter sets in, continue to warm up and make sure you make your way to Dix Hills Clark Gillies Arena for open skating sessions at one of two rinks available to Town residents. It's a great way to warm up and stay in shape during the cold winter months.

I look forward to continuing the tradition of working with the Huntington Arts Council and all of our partners in the cultural arts to enhance Huntington's natural beauty while promoting local artists and creative exploration.

Huntington is a great place to live, work and play. Take some time this season to pay us a visit. Browse the pages of this newspaper for additional listings of diverse cultural opportunities throughout the Town. We look forward to seeing you here in Huntington, Long Island's Cultural Capital!

Long Island Grants for the Arts

SCR 2022 Creative Individual Grant recipient Adriana Devers-Rodriguez at the Yes We Can Center in Westbury.

The Huntington Arts Council administers the Statewide Community Re-grant (SCR) Program (previously known as DEC) to make funding possible for individuals, teaching artists, and nonprofit organizations looking to do arts and cultural projects. The grants are made possible with funds from the State & Local Partnerships (SLP) program of NYSCLA and with the support of the Office of the Governor and the NYS Legislature.

There are three SCR grant categories. Creative Communities, which support nonprofit organizations for arts and cultural programming in local and surrounding communities, Creative Learning supporting teaching artists to complete sequential programming for K-12 students or lifelong learners, and Creative Individuals for artists who wish to complete a new arts project.

There are some changes for the 2023 grant application process. HAC provided grant Skill Building Sessions as a resource for our applicants. These NEW Skill Building Sessions took place in August with a wonderful response from our constituents. These sessions were tailored to SCR grant opportunities, covering important points within the application(s) such as learning how to connect your art form to the New York State Art Standards, an introduction to the NEW budget worksheet, and strategies for community outreach and marketing. These sessions have already concluded, but video recordings are available on our website at www.huntingtonarts.org.

In order to be eligible for a 2023 SCR Grant, you must attend one of the mandatory seminars (previously known as workshops). These began in September, and run through October 13th. There are three remaining. The format has changed from previous years, and the seminars are specific to each grant category. You must register in advance at the grants for the arts page on our website www.huntingtonarts.org. The remaining seminars are as follows:

- Creative Individual – Oct 6, 2022 2pm Virtual
- Creative Communities – Oct 11, 2022 6pm Virtual
- LAST CALL – Overview of SCR grant opportunities and Q&A – Oct 13, 2022 4:30 – 5:30 pm Spotlight at the Paramount, 370 New York Ave, Huntington NY

Upon conclusion of the seminars, grant applications can be accessed on our website beginning October 17th. The deadline to submit completed applications is 3:00PM on December 5th 2022.

Questions regarding this program, should be directed to Emily Dowd, Grants for the Arts Coordinator or Patty Eljaiek, Grants for the Arts Assistant and/or refer to our website: www.huntingtonarts.org/programs/grants-for-the-arts/

Tecumseh Ceaser

MON., OCT. 3, 4:30pm-7:30pm
Local Indigenous History and Wampum Carving
Huntington Fine Arts

Culturally responsive teaching artist Tecumseh Ceaser is a Wampum Carver and Cultural Consultant: Long Island Native American Graves Protection group and an Advisor for the Global Indigenous Youth Caucus at the United Nations. His presentation on local Native history, culture, customs, and wampum, is often excluded from textbooks. Using tactile examples and the indigenous language, Ceaser will teach his Native history as a living history, as taught by his Elders. New York City and the tri state area has one of the largest Native populations and active tribes. Every day we use or see Native words and don't realize it, like Rockaways, Canarsie, Montauk, Shinnecock and more. Students in grades 4-8 will be able to see the influence that Native culture has on their communities and American society. 3 CTLE Hours (Civics and Cultural Responsiveness)

Oksana Danziger

TUES., OCT. 11, 4:30pm-7:30pm
Sustainability and EnvironmentalEco Printing
Huntington Fine Arts

Textile and Teaching Artist Oksana Danziger will discuss the principle of eco printing with various leaves and plant materials which possess tannins that have the innate ability to print permanent color onto fabric fibers when combined with the proper technique and procedure. Eco printing is directly related to the art of dyeing with natural plant materials and has been around since 100 A.D. Sustainable art forms have become very popular and designing in sustainable ways will impact the entire world. We can make the process experimental and creative using natural sources of dye. At this workshop we will make a scarf using an eco-print of leaves and flowers. 3 CTLE Hours (STEAM: Cultural, Sustainability and EnvironmentalStudies)

Christianne Gentry

MON., OCT. 17, 4:30pm-7:30pm
The Art of Empowerment: Empowering through SEL
Huntington Fine Arts

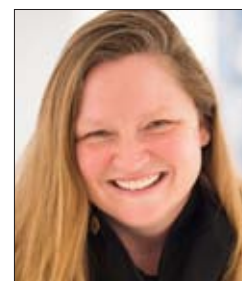

Artist and Mindfulness Cognitive Behavioral Counselor Christianne Gentry aims to teach students grades 6-8 skills to learn how to recognize their thoughts, emotions, and actions, and how to react in positive ways through mindfulness based practices: Breathing exercises, Somatic Movement, Five Senses Exercises, Positive Affirmations and Mantras. By integrating self-regulation & self-awareness, we can help our children and students reduce stress, alleviate anxiety/depression while promoting improved self-esteem, and creativity. Strong academic skills, social-emotional learning, and mindfulness are vital for our children and students to thrive individually and collectively in our ever changing world. 3 CTLE Hours (Social emotional learning, self-awareness and self-management)

Adriana Devers

MON., OCT. 24, 4:30pm-7:30pm
Empowering NLA students through La Casa en Mango Street
Huntington Fine Arts

Author, poet, educator and cultural events coordinator Adriana Devers will discuss Sandra Cisneros, "La casa en Mango Street" and how it presents a variety of topics on social issues that we face in today's society. Literature is meant to empower, connect, and build a bridge that allows the readers to see themselves through the story at hand. "Mango Street" tells a story that many of us can connect to, it teaches our students the value of their own stories and the impact that our heritage has on us. This workshop addresses the main themes presented in the novel, with useful student centered activities, writing assignments and tools that will add more value to your lesson or make you want to add it to your repertoire. 3 CTLE Hours (Communication, Cultures, Connections, Comparisons, Communities, creating, producing, responding, collaboration, critical thinking and creativity)

Prof. Barbara Applegate

WED., NOV. 9, 4:30pm-7:30pm
Looking at Art and Making Meaning
Huntington Arts Council

Director, Hillwood Art Museum at Long Island University, Professor Barbara Applegate will discuss how many images do you view each day? How about in text messages? Or social media? How many of those images do you REALLY look at or consider deeply? Not all images require careful looking, but some do. In this workshop we will develop skill sets for the practice of careful looking. This workshop is an introduction to Visual Thinking Strategies. In principle and practice VTS promotes thoughtfully facilitated discussions of art to make education more engaging, inclusive, and equitable. These skills can be used with your students to promote careful looking, invigorate guided discussion, and increase students' visual focus. VTS can be especially helpful in looking at works from a diverse global perspective. In our student-centered workshop we will view several works of art digitally and model the VTS practice. Participants should be ready to look carefully and share their findings throughout the session. 3 CTLE Hours (Visual Thinking Strategies)

December 23, 2022

The Huntington Arts Council invited artists to participate in Exploration of the Human Form, an exhibition with a focus on the varied artistic interpretation, exploration, representation and significance of the human figure. Submissions were not limited to "traditional" representations or media and could take the form of anatomical studies, portraiture, enlarged body images, and more.

Juror Christophe Lima is an Artist and Educator who creates profound and thought provoking paintings and drawings. Everything she does is with the aim of connecting to, and opening up, meaningful conversations with others.

Nightmare on Main St.
Juried Student Exhibition
Juror: Lauren La Bella
October 21 –
November 15, 2022

Student artists grades 6 -12 were invited to submit work to Nightmare on Main Street, inspired by this statement by Juror, Lauren La Bella. During the Bubonic Plague, the Plague Doctor became a memento mori, a symbol for one's last earthly moments, as this was usually the last thing a person would see before meeting their death. The long beak of the mask was filled with herbs and spices that were believed to filter out the "bad spirit", protecting the wearer from those he was visiting; the long, waxy coat and hat protecting their skin and clothes underneath. A long staff was used to make contact with the bodies without having to touch them directly. This ominous uniform, once functional and commonplace, became a masquerade costume for those celebrating the Venetian Carnival, a time where one could conceal their identity while partying and living freely for a short time, once a year. This frightening yet beautiful disguise was just one of the many characters to choose from. Similarly, Halloween is a once-a-year opportunity to disguise yourself or be unknown, and to celebrate the darker parts of life. In the medium of your choice, show us how you interpret these concepts.

Plague Doctor by Lauren La Bella

Lauren La Bella has a BFA in painting from the Savannah College of Art and Design. She has participated in group and solo exhibitions in New York and Savannah, Georgia. Her background in fashion and photography have influenced her work process, techniques, and materials. Her media of choice include but are not limited to: acrylic and oil paint, watercolor, graphite, installation, and time-based media. La Bella is working out of the fine art gallery/private tattoo studio, The Gallery @, in Huntington, NY, which she co-owns.

Recap

Bravo to all the talented artists who performed at the 57th Huntington Summer Arts Festival. The Festival of music, dance, and theatre featured a wide variety of artists, local, from around U.S. & the world. Special shows that really stood out include the following:

Opening weekend featured extraordinary performances: jazz vocalist Cyrille Aimee on Opening night, followed by Lerner & Loewe's musical Camelot from Plaza Theatrical Productions, and a performance by the Symphonic Pops of L.I. with violin virtuoso Deni Bonet. Kudos to the Huntington Community Band on their 76th Season and new Director Vickie

Henson (Asst. Directors Shane Helfner & Dan Bilawski) for an innovative and melodious season. Dizzy Gillespie's Afro-Latin Experience, led by bassist John Reed and featuring Cyrus Chestnut on piano, was magical, and rhythmic. The High Kings showed why they're the reigning superstars of Celtic Roots with a rollicking concert of traditional favorites. Paula Cole shone brightly as she headlined the 16th Huntington Folk Festival following afternoon showcases, song swaps and opening performance by Sophie B. Hawkins. Women In Jazz Week offered something fresh and unexpected, with performances by saxophonist Lakecia Benjamin, trumpeter/vocalist Bria Skonberg, vocalist/keyboardist Kandace Springs, culminating with DIVA Five Play.

Miko Marks' heartfelt vocals and The Abrams (brothers James/John) amped-up energy had folks dancing. Their sing along of "Take Me Home, Country Roads" left everyone exhilarated. Brady Rymer brought his playful songwriting to the final Family Concert with his Little Band That Could. Perhaps the most memorable performance was by Orchestra L.I., David Stewart Wiley, conductor, Akemi Takayama, violin soloist, and the Virtuosi Strings of the OLI. Their rendition of Vivaldi's The Four Seasons received a standing ovation.

We thank the Town Supervisor & the Town Council, TOH Dept.'s of Parks & Rec., Gen. Svces., and Public Safety for their efforts and logistical support. Thank you to the County of Suffolk, the New York State Council on the Arts (NYSCA) and our presenting sponsor Canon USA, for their continued support and all in-kind sponsors for their contributions. A huge THANKS to the public, whose presence and donations make the HSAF an enduring celebration of the arts, and a vital part of Huntington's cultural life.

Thank you!
