From the Executive Director

MARC COURTADE
Executive Director
Huntington Arts Council

The arts bring a sense of normalcy and community to our lives. At Huntington Arts Council we have found so many people are desperate for arts activities right now. Art during a pandemic is an ever evolving thing, and needs creative solutions to keep moving forward. However, this is really what art is about, and we thrive on being creative and solving challenges.

All of us at Huntington Arts Council are very proud we were able to bring you our Huntington Summer Arts Festival, this year dubbed the Huntington Summer of Hope. It was a very difficult decision to cancel the originally planned 40 night festival. We continued to monitor the governor's guidelines, and worked very closely with officials at the Town of Huntington to plan and present the modified festival. I have to thank Supervisor Lupinacci and the Town Council for their support and encouragement. Greg Wagner, Director of Parks and Recreation, was invaluable in his assistance and cooperation. Not only were audiences grateful for the performances, but every performer expressed their gratitude for the opportunity to perform a gain after months without being in front of a live audience.

Fall brings a myriad of programs at Huntington Arts Council, adapted for these changing and challenging times. Our Main Street Gallery continues to showcase the talented artists of Long Island, with increased exposure on our website and social media to reach as wide an audience as possible. Grants for the Arts is in high gear, with decisions for 2021 funding expected by the end of the year. Arts Education offers options for in-person and virtual experiences for teachers and students. Conversations in the Arts and Arts Administrator Forums continue, with these events streamed to bring together artists and organizations to our community. Singer-Songwriter Night is temporarily paused as we explore the best platform to safely showcase the performers. I look forward to a time when we can come back together in person for all of our programming, but in the meantime, it is gratifying to be able to continue to bring the arts to the Long Island community.

The need for arts activities is stronger now than ever. HAC needs the support of our community more than ever before so that we can continue to bring you programs and activities that enrich the lives of us all.

Annual Meeting of the Membership

ED Marc Courtade Presenting via Zoom

Huntington Arts Council held its Annual Meeting on June 8 as NYS began its slow transition to reopening. This would normally be an evening of fellowship, but it had to be rethought and retooled to maintain social distancing protocols. The annual report and election of officers was held via ZOOM, with ED Marc Courtade leading the meeting from the Main Street Gallery, and President Kay Sato, the board and members attending from the safety and comfort of their homes. We made sure all of our business transpired, though not in our usual way. The Annual Meeting, like most things we are doing these days, was innovative and resourceful.

Town Honors Huntington Hospital and Doctor Nick Fitterman

Prior to the opening performance of the 2020 Summer of Hope Festival, Supervisor Chad Lupinacci presented a proclamation honoring the Huntington Hospital frontline workers to its ED Dr. Nick Fitterman. The award was presented at the Chapin Rainbow Stage as a kickoff for performance by Tom Chapin and the Chapin Sisters. Director of Parks and Recreation Greg Wagner oversaw this recognition for the incredible dedication of the hospital staff during trying times, and joined us for the presentation.

From the Supervisor

CHAD A. LUPINACCI
Supervisor Town of Huntington

Dear Friends,

The Town of Huntington takes pride in being "Long Island's Cultural Capital."

As Huntington continues to reboot and recover from the initial COVID-19 shutdowns, we can look back very proudly on our "Summer of Hope" concert series in Heckscher Park.

We began the summer with Huntington's own Tom Chapin and had 16 successive shows, some streamed online, so we were able to continue to provide critical performance art to Town residents.

As the weather cools and guidance allows, we hope to continue to sponsor safe and culturally rich experiences for Town residents and visitors to our community.

As always, be sure to make your way to Heckscher Museum, one of the great gems here in the heart of Huntington, for their Fall offerings. Reservations are required, so check the listings in this newspaper or visit www.Heckscher.org for more information.

Stay tuned to the Arts Council webpage for updates and for additional listings of diverse cultural opportunities throughout the Town, and browse the pages of this newspaper and continue to discover all the wonderful things Huntington has to offer.

Sincerely,
Chad A. Lupinacci

Jesus Christ by Fernando Carpaneda

Artist Fernando Carpaneda was selected for the 2020 Long Island Biennial, at The Heckscher Museum of Art. He is one of the 52 out of 302 artists who submitted works for consideration reflecting the broad and diverse range of work being created on Long Island. The painting 'Jesus Christ' (photo) was one of the works chosen by the curators to be part of the exhibition. The exhibition will be on view from October 15, 2020 through January 10, 2021. Carpaneda is a sculptor, painter and editor in chief of Carpazine Magazine.

Caryn Coville had two colored pencil pieces accepted into Light, Space & Time's 10th Anniversary online art exhibition. 'Zoom' won Special Merit, Painting and Other Media Category and 'Bird's Eye View' won Special Recognition, Painting and Other Media Category. Coville's colored pencil painting, 'Isolation' was accepted into Cero Gallery's Great American Paint-In. The show is currently online and a book is being planned. She also had two pieces ('Threesome' and 'Solo Performance') juried into the UK Coloured Pencil Society's 19th Annual Open Exhibition.

Howard Pohl's photographs, 'Boarded Window' and 'Shape' and 'Shapeless' were selected to appear in the 2020 Long Island Biennial at the Heckscher Museum of Art. 302 artists submitted works for consideration, 52 were chosen. Both pieces will be on display at the museum from October 15 through January 10, 2021. In addition, two other works, 'Graffiti Crosby Street' and 'Women's March' were selected for the Black & White 2020 exhibition at the Brooklyn Waterfront Artists Coalition (BWAC) in Red Hook, on display through October 24.

The Suffolk County Vanderbilt Museum – one of the last of the historic Gold Coast estates on Long Island – recently celebrated its 70th anniversary as a unique destination for education, history, and culture. William K. Vanderbilt II (1878-1944) foresaw the potential for his Eagle's Nest estate and private museum to be used for, in the words of the institution's mission, the "education and enjoyment of the general public." That wish prompted him to bequeath to Suffolk County his estate and museum and a trust fund to finance its operation. Each year, the Vanderbilt welcomes visitors from around the U.S. and more than 40 countries. Thousands of schoolchildren visit the Museum and its Reichert Planetarium annually with their science and history classes.

Long Island Grants for the Arts

The Huntington Arts Council administers the Decentralization Regrant Program to Nassau and Suffolk County artists and nonprofit arts organizations. The program was started in 1977 and formed to warrant that funding for the arts reaches every part of New York State. This program supports Creative Communities, Creative Learning, and Creative Individuals, with the goal of keeping the arts thriving in our communities.

2021 Overview

In order to have been considered for the 2021 grants, applicants needed to have followed these three steps: Attend a mandatory, free grant workshop, review the guidelines and submit the grant application(s). The next step is a review by our panels. Panels are made up of professionals in the field, whether they are artists, or work at an arts organization or a non-profit.

2020 Decentralization Recap

Our awardees have had a few challenges completing their 2020 funded project(s) due to the pandemic, but they continue to push through and complete their projects whether that be virtually or in person. Below are two examples of projects funded with the Creative Learning Grant. If you would like to attend a 2020 grant recipient's event please email grants4arts@huntingtonarts.org for more information.

2020 Highlights

Marie Saint-Cyr, Creative Learning Grant 2020, Art and Mental Health Workshops

Art and Mental Health Workshops

Marie Saint-Cyr was awarded a 2020 Creative Learning Grant. She collaborated with Transitioning Career and Wellness and Minority Millennials to create a 6-week series of art and mindfulness workshops to assist kids, teens, and adults in taking care of their mental health. The main goal of the workshops was to create a space for people to learn about their mental health care, while creating art, engaging in discussions, all while following social distances guidelines. The adult sessions were similar to a mix and mingle event, providing them time to unwind and balance themselves mentally.

Art and Creative Writing Zoom Workshops

Marie also created an intergenerational program for children. In April and May of 2020, she worked with an author to launch a series of 5 ZOOM art workshops. The workshops were geared to help the group express their thoughts and emotions through visual arts and creative writing. The first half of the workshop was facilitated by author Sade' Norwood who guided participants in learning how to write haikus, free verse poems, limerick poems, and more. The second half of the workshop was facilitated by Marie, where she guided participants in a variety of art and mindfulness exercises including drawings based on music lyrics, and dual self-portraits of how they felt inside and out.

For questions on grants please email grants4arts@huntingtonarts.org

Funds are made possible by the New York State Council on the Arts (NYSCA) Decentralization Program with the support of Governor Andrew M. Cuomo and the New York State Legislature.

Summer of Hope Live Performances Return to the Chapin Rainbow Stage

The Huntington Arts Council, Town of Huntington and the Chapin Rainbow Stage Tech Staff surged into action to create the "Summer of Hope Festival", an abbreviated 55th season of music and entertainment in Heckscher Park that provided a restorative sense of normalcy to the community.

In response to CDC protocols and NYS Health Dept. directives, operational changes were introduced, and the TOH Parks Dept. set up online performance reservations, limited audience size, enforced social distancing, and mask-wearing for the safety of all involved. Live performances were streamed on HAC's Facebook LIVE platform, as were a number of pre-recorded family programs and the trio of performances by the Orchestra Long Island with Maestro David Stewart Wiley.

Tom Chapin and his daughters Abigail & Lily (The Chapin Sisters) opened the Festival on July 25, following a moving celebration of Huntington Hospital's first responders by TOH Supervisor Chad Lupinacci and the Hospital's ED Dr. Nick Fitterman. The next four weeks, the Festival's eclectic schedule of live concerts featured outstanding local artists and ensembles. Many performers shared connections to the Summer Arts Festival; for others, this was their first opportunity to shine on the Chapin Rainbow Stage. The Festival concluded on Saturday, August 22 with a wonderfully entertaining performance by the Howard Fishman Quartet.

For most artists, this was their first gig since March. "All the musicians and dancers were happy to perform before real audiences hungry for live entertainment," said John Chicherio, HAC Performing Arts Director. "It speaks to the power of live performance as a shared communal celebration."

We thank the Town Supervisor & the Town Council for their support, and the Departments of Parks & Rec., Gen. Svces., and Public Safety for their efforts. Thank you to the County of Suffolk, the New York State Council on the Arts (NYSCA) for their support; and to in-kind supporters Canon USA and Korg USA.

Our deepest gratitude goes to all the artists and ensembles for their superb performances. Kudos to the skilled and hard-working technical staff for making the heavy lift seem so effortless; to Rob Comforto and Video Masters for the excellent videography; the Summer

Scape Volunteers for their devotion and time; and to volunteer photographers from the Huntington Camera Club for documenting the concerts. HAC's Board of Directors and dedicated staff are gratefully recognized and appreciated.

Last and certainly not least, a huge THANKS to you the public! The success and longevity of the HSAF would not be possible without the support of our audience. We appreciate your support and look forward to seeing you next summer!

October 5 – Native American Music and Dance Workshop

Louis Mofsie, the director of The Thunderbird American Indian Dancers, will engage participants in learning and discussions of different Native American stories, songs and dances. The Iroquois Robin Dance will be presented with an accompanying song. The dance is done each March to celebrate the coming of the spring season, the robin being one of the first birds seen after the long cold winter. The Iroquois legend of the cornhusk doll and why the dolls have no face as well as, Hopi Kachina dolls, their function and why they are made will be discussed.

From the Great Plains people, the participants will learn a Grass Dance. The dance grew out of the necessity to clear space for the Teepee villages to be erected as the people moved from campsite to campsite following the buffalo herds. We will also learn a round dance from the Great Plains which has a simple rhythm and movement.

CTLE Credits – 3

October 19 - A Peace of Hate - Art through Collage, Painting and Poetry

Dr. Nichelle Rivers will work with participants on developing strategies to teach culturally relevant historical symbols of hate that continue to impact classrooms across our country through an arts based lens utilizing the art making process of painting and collage. Participants will be challenged to dissect symbols of hate, discuss their perception of these symbols and learn specific strategies to successfully present the sometimes subtle menacing nature of hate symbols that most of our students have no knowledge of, nor do they realize the dangerous power these symbols represent in the persuasion of the fragile minds of middle and high school students. Through poetry, the presenter will challenge participants to replace the reactive intake of hateful imagery with a critical analysis of why we perceive things the way we do.

CTLE Credits – 3 (Language Acquisition Hours or ELL)

October 26- Mask Making for Diadelos Muertos

Teaching artist Miguel Cossio, born in Mexico and based in New York, is an avid traveler and lore researcher. He will lead teachers in the ritualistic art forms of masks making and puppet making for Diadelos Muertos (Day of the Dead), just in time for Halloween and All Saints Day. Miguel is also a writer/director of performance pieces and brings his in-school workshops throughout NYC, Westchester and Long Island. All teachers will enjoy this hands on workshop as well as art teachers, dual language and foreign language classroom teachers.

New Discovery Chest Middle East

The Huntington Arts Council is proud to announce the addition of the Middle East Discovery Chest to our JOURNEY Arts in Education program. Educator Fran Bertos, who has previous experience after creating the Greek chest in 2016, developed this new addition to the program. A teacher in the Northport-East Northport School district since 1987, she taught in the elementary classroom for many years. In 2002, Mrs. Bertos began teaching sixth grade Social Studies with a specialty in Ancient Civilizations. Most recently she has been a teacher in the district's Gifted & Talented "Investigate" Program.

The decision to develop a Middle East artifact chest was the result of a teacher survey conducted in fall 2017. Esmeralda Tello of Huntington High School explains its importance; "Middle Eastern civilizations (particularly Islamic Empires) are an important part of the Global History 9 curriculum. In ancient history we study the Sumerians, Babylonians, Hebrews, Persians, Islamic Caliphates and the Ottoman Empire. We are in need of artifacts and virtual collections that will engage students in the learning of Middle Eastern civilizations to teach about the impact of scarcity, migration and human interconnections. There is no better way to learn about a culture than by traveling there but, in these social distancing times we need to bring the cultures to the kids both in the classroom, and on the virtual classroom model."

The chest provides resources to enhance the curriculum in global studies classes, but is available to all classroom teachers grades K-12.

The Middle East Discovery Chest was funded by the Sandy Chapin Foundation. We are grateful for their continued support of the JOURNEY Arts in Education program.

BOLD by Shannon Resto

The Fact of Being by Christophe Lima

Invitational – Small Group Show Of Mind and Body
 Christophe Lima & Kristen Memoli
 Through October 10, 2020

Christophe Lima - "I use a psychological theorem developed by Carl Jung called Shadow Work to examine the unexplored, vulnerable side of self, humanity, femininity, and my environment. My work is always gritty, honest, and emotionally driven. I understand that to live fully, to be full, we must, at times, gaze into the abyss."

Recognition by Kristen Memoli

Kristen Memoli resides in Huntington, New York. She is a clinical psychologist by training and a self-taught artist. Kristen is drawn to and inspired by contrast and contradictions. Many of her works explore concepts of light versus dark, life versus decay, and joy versus heartache. She most enjoys abstract, landscape, and urban exploration photography as well as creating multimedia pieces.

Nightmare on Main Street
 Juried Student Exhibition
 October 16 – November 7, 2020

Nightmare on Main Street is in its 9th year and remains a favorite of student artists. Students in grades 6-12 were invited to participate in this show with submissions inspired by Halloween!

"Halloween is everybody's favorite time of year to experience new things and get out of their comfort zones," says exhibition juror Raquel Skellington, "It's one of the greatest times for creative inspiration, the changing of the seasons, the spooky atmosphere, to bring to life some of our greatest creative endeavors. October 31 is the day where everybody can embody their favorite hero or their greatest fear."

Raquel Skellington is an Alternative Performance Artist and Graphic Designer from New York.

Vampire 3 by Raquel Skellington

Mirror Mirror
 Juror, Caitlyn Shea
 November 13th, 2020 – December 19th, 2020

Artists were inspired by this quote from Walt Whitman's, Song of Myself, Part 25 to submit work of self-reflection. "Speech is the twin of my vision, it is unequal to measure itself, it provokes forever, it says sarcastically, Walt you contain enough, why don't you let it out then?"

This exhibit addresses the questions: What kind of mirror does your artwork hold up to the world? During times of reflection is it a full length, vanity, compact, or a funhouse mirror containing many multitudes? Maybe it is more of a looking glass. Allowing encouraging the artist to observe and then say, "I contain enough." and let it out.

Non-Juried Exhibition

January 8 - 30, 2021

These last several months as a community we have encountered trials and tribulations from COVID-19, tropical storms, and everything else in between. We pulled through and will continue to do so. Let's enter the New Year looking forward with a continued positive outlook and to a bright year ahead. The Huntington Art Council is asking artists to create works that bring positivity and hope to our communities near and far.

In A New Light will be a non-juried exhibition of works based on artists' bringing positivity and hope for the upcoming year. *Artworks will be reviewed on a rolling basis for this exhibition until spots are filled. Acceptances will be on a first come first served basis and will be required to pay a hanging fee upon acceptance. To enter go to huntingtonarts.org

Conversations in the Arts is a program developed to stimulate and promote the arts and has been very successful in doing so. Each month we bring together artists and scholars from our community and create a dialogue, exploring ideas and encouraging collaborations. It has been interesting to share experiences, hear opposing views, and opinions on each topic. It is not important that we agree; it is important that we have the conversations. All are welcome to join us in these fascinating discussions!

We welcome input and suggestions for future topics and panels. If you are interested in curating one of these events, please submit a brief outline on an arts-related topic and suggested panelists to director@huntingtonarts.org. Limit your submission to no more than 500 words please. Go to our website for examples of previous topics in this series and model your proposal accordingly.

New Creative Business Member

Creative Business is a new level of membership for the Huntington Arts Council and we are thrilled to have The Firefly Artists as our first. A mainstay of Northport since 2011, The Firefly Artists is located at 162 Main Street. Their original goal was to create a gallery setting for local artists, where they and those who appreciate them could meet, offer support to one another, and display and sell their beautiful creations. Between their galleries on Main St., and pop-ups throughout the community, they have showcased over 150 local artists, offering a stunning variety of media.

The Firefly Artists just recently announced their expansion with the addition of the Darcy Center for the Arts offering world class education and exhibition opportunities. The current gallery will now include new studio and exhibition space, and launch in-person classes for artists of all ages and experience levels. Classes are expected to launch this month with great care taken to ensure the safety of students and teachers through compliance with NYS COVID guidelines including plenty of room for social distancing.

For more information on The Firefly Artists, please contact Managing Partner, Beth Atkinson at beth@thefireflyartists.com or 631-651-5545.

Membership and support

Member Kristen Memoli with her family

A great way for you to stay connected and support the Huntington Arts Council is through membership. We recently adjusted our offerings to reflect input from you, our community, and our desire to facilitate arts and culture with our members. The Huntington Arts Council supports artists and organizations working in a broad variety of artistic mediums and interests in the arts. Visual, performing, auditory, authors, poets, as well as historians and those with casual interest, all have a place in our organization.

Our membership and our relationship to the community is important to us. You are at the core of our mission and who the Huntington Arts Council is. We value your involvement and commitment to the arts and welcome all new members into our family.

Our membership has 4 categories; Artist Circle, Patron Circle, Business and Not-for-Profit Organization Memberships. Benefits range from deals with local merchants, discounts panels and juried exhibitions, special arts opportunities, promotion through our various communication channels and Art Cultural Newspaper, listing as a supporter on our website, to VIP experiences at our Huntington Summer Arts Festival. For a full description of the available levels of membership, corresponding benefits, go to huntingtonarts.org/members/ and become a member today.

If you have specific questions on membership or support, please reach out to Kieran Johnson, Director of Community Partnerships & Development at development@huntingtonarts.org

Christophe Lima - "I use a psychological theorem developed by Carl Jung called Shadow Work to examine the unexplored, vulnerable side of self, humanity, femininity, and my environment. My work is always gritty, honest, and emotionally driven. I understand that to live fully, to be full, we must, at times, gaze into the abyss." Kristen Memoli resides in Huntington, New York. She is a clinical psychologist by training and a self-taught artist. Kristen is drawn to and inspired by contrast and contradictions. Many of her works explore concepts of light versus dark, life versus decay, and joy versus heartache. She most enjoys abstract, landscape, and urban exploration photography as well as creating multimedia pieces. Free.

Allow yourself to observe and then say, "I contain enough," and let it out. Juror, Caitlyn Shea, is Director of Events and Media for the Walt Whitman Birthplace. Free

Jan. 8 - 30, 2021 | "In a New Light" | This show is a non-juried exhibition. Recognizing the trials and tribulations of the past several months, artists were asked to submit work inspired by bringing positivity and hope for the upcoming year. Free
